With ponds locked in ice and brooks flooded, fishermen face rough opening—Season runs until August 31st, Allegany park excepted.

Except in Alleghany state park, the fishing season for brook, speckled, brown, rainbow, steelhead and red-throat trout opens today. M. W. Brackett, game inspector, does not believe that many will be caught, however. The cold spell has locked the ponds in ice and flooded the brooks, while it is against the law to fish through the ice for speckled trout.
