

The Western New-Yorker.

VOLUME 30

$1.50 PER YEAR.

The Western New-Yorker, Warsaw, N. Y., January 8, 1920

NUMBER

THE NEW BOARD HAS ORGANIZED

Kershaw of Gainesville Elected Chairman

COMMITTEES APPOINTED

The business of making the County Roads Passable for Modern Traffic Will Call for Serious Consideration by the Board.

The new Board of Supervisors of Wyoming County met in regular session on Tuesday, January 6th for the purpose of organizing for the year. The board was called to order by Clerk Wheeler, and Supervisor W. E. Lewis of Arcade was elected temporary chairman. On a ballot for permanent chairman Supervisor John O. Kershaw of Gainesville received ten votes, with the rest scattering. His election was made unanimous after which Mr. Wheeler was re-elected Clerk, as usual.

Mr. Kershaw thanked the board for the honor conferred and assumed the chair. He seems to have had quite definite assurances as to what was going to happen, for he asked for no delay in naming the standing committees for the year. The committees are as follows:

Rules and Legislation—D. C. Eddy, W. A. Roberts, S. T. Lewis.
Assessment, Equalization and Apportionment—E. V. Wolcott, D. C. Eddy, C. M. Foster, Earl G. North, W. W. Metcalf, W. T. Olin.
Taxes—W. F. Lewis, H. A. Beardsley, C. M. Foster.
County Officers and Compensation—A. C. Ewell, A. E. Wellman, Carey R. Albrow.

County Treasurer—Earl G. North.
W. T. Olin, S. T. Lewis.
Coroners, Justices and Constables—C. A. Mason, W. F. Lewis, Webber A. Joiner.

Sherriff—H. A. Beardsley, Earl G. North, D. C. Eddy.
Correction and Reformation—W. A. Roberts, W. W. Metcalf, E. G. North.

County Clerk and Judiciary—W. T. Olin, W. A. Joiner, W. F. Lewis.
Elections—W. A. Joiner, A. E. Wellman, W. W. Metcalf.

Charities—C. M. Foster, C. A. Mason, A. C. Ewell.
Dependent Children—Carey R. Albrow, H. A. Beardsley, W. A. Roberts.

Education—A. E. Wellman, D. C. Eddy, R. V. Wolcott.
Highways—W. W. Metcalf, C. A. Mason, A. C. Ewell.

Finance—S. T. Lewis, C. R. Albrow, R. V. Wolcott.

The new supervisors were all on hand with the exception of Mr. Olin of Perry, and he answered the roll call on Wednesday morning. There were rumors that he would decline to qualify, but he seems to have found a way to reconcile his various interests so he can serve his town on the county legislature.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

The principle topic of discussion was where to find the money to build the roads that the people are demanding. County Superintendent Holmes was present and announced that he had signed the plans and specifications for the Warsaw-Varysburg road, Part 2, and that the estimated cost of that 3 1/2 miles of road, of reinforced concrete, was about $200,000. Wyoming County's delay in getting into the construction of highways is proving costly, etc. It begins to look as if there would be no money left for the state and county road between Warsaw and Perry Center, at all, this year. The logic of the situation seems to be more and more that county roads can be built if the bituminous penetration surface is used. Those who study maintenance costs, realize the fact that common waterbound macadam disintegrates very rapidly, under the chipping by cabs of horse's shoes and the grinding effect of steel tires, and a material that will toughen the surface so that the cabs of horse's shoes merely indent the road instead of chipping it up, lasts so much longer that there is no argument about the benefits. In some towns they do not allow horses on the roads until the surface has been toughened with a bituminous binder. The problem of making it possible to get produce to market, is the biggest problem before the legislature and before the Board of Supervisors, and the tax payers are bound to face expenditures they never dreamed of, if the modern traffic is going to be possible through Wyoming county.

A KICK

While the people of Silver Lake have as much sympathy with suffering humanity as any other community, they would not appreciate having the Perry Chamber of Commerce send death to live in their very midst. This applies to summer residents also, many of whom are wisely greatly concerned. We read in the proposed County Tuberculosis Hospital, for which the Chamber would sell the defunct Military School property, which was neatly unloaded upon it. We resent the idea of the said property now being unloaded on us in the form of a menace. We understand an attempt was made to locate the hospital on the hill at Warsaw, but this created such consternation among the residents there, the project was abandoned.

God made the world large enough to leave it entirely easy and feasible to locate danger institutions at a more reasonable distance from uninfected mortals, in order to protect the lives and prevent depreciation in the value of their hard earned property.

Telephone and mail box have been kept busy with protests from Buffalo Rochester and other towns, voicing the alarm of summer patrons of many years. Not only would the proposed institution keep these people away and kill the Lake. It would react on Perry in an unmistakable way in all lines of trade.

We might suggest in conclusion, that the building aforesaid be used as a Reform School for Suckers who bite at rainbowed prospects too easily. These we would welcome into our midst and seek to aid in every way; but do not want the very grave danger of the County Tuberculosis hospital. We are reasonably well fed up here on things we do not approve, or feel are at all necessary to our spiritual or temporal welfare.

John F. Howard.

Surrogate's Proceedings

On petition of The Trust Company of Wyoming County the will of Chas. Hammond, late of Warsaw who died December 19, 1919 has been admitted to probate. The will bears date of July 17, 1918, and relates to personal property valued at $150. By the terms of the will the interest in and to the real estate is left to the widow, Elizabeth Dutton Hammond. The remainder of the estate is left to the son, Elmer Hammond.

The Trust Company of Wyoming County was named executor of the estate.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

The petition of Caroline Johnson of Perry and George Buckingham of Pavilion for the probate of the will of Seymour Johnson, late of Perry who died November 27th, has been granted in Surrogate's Court. The will was executed December 7th, 1909 and disposes of real estate valued at $2500 and personal property valued at $8,000. By the terms of the will all the property is left to the widow, Caroline A. Johnson. At her death it is to be left to the daughter Grace Popp. Caroline Johnson and George Buckingham were named executors.

On petition of Minnie Fullington of Orangeville the will of Millard C. Fullington, late of Orangeville who died in Warsaw on December 22nd, has been admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted the petitioner. The will was executed on April 4, 1913 and disposes of real estate valued at $500 and personal property valued at $4,600. By the terms of the will all the property is left to Minnie Fullington, the widow, who is also named executrix.

A Question for You

What proportion of the high cost of living are you responsible for? A shoe dealer in Kansas City told how, when prices began to advance, he bought as much of the old stock as he could carry. Then style in shoes began to change a trifle—just a little narrower, too, or something like that. To every customer he would show two shoes, one of the year-old style, priced at $4 a pair, and one made over the newest latest price $9 a pair. Both looked equally attractive on the foot. Invariably however, the purchaser carried away the $9 pair.

This same dealer has a stock of the finest quality of ladies' shoes at $5 a pair, but they were made under wartime restrictions, therefore are only eight inches high. Exactly the same shoe, with the exception that it is nine and one-half inches high, sells for $13.50 a pair but not one woman in a score buys the cheaper priced shoe.

"I am not only willing, but anxious to help my patrons reduce the cost of living," this dealer is quoted as saying; "but I can't sell them something they won't buy." My patrons come from the working classes and their families, but they insist on buying, and are willing to pay for styles that are good today and out-of-date next week.

If the people insist on spending their money like drunken sailors, what can a merchant do but accept it? We must give the people what they want, not what we think they ought to have, or go out of business.

O. E. S. Officers Installed

The installation of officers of Centennial Chapter O. E. S. was held Monday evening in the Masonic Temple. Frank Crippen, past patron, acted as installing officer. Mrs. Sherburne and Mrs. Andrews assisted as marshalls. The list follows:

Worthy matron, Mrs. James Reid, worthy patron, Meade A. Ewell; assistant matron, Mrs. Elliott Smith; treasurer, Mrs. E. M. Wheeler; conductress, Mrs. Louis Baldwin; associate conductress, Mrs. Arthur Lester; chaplain, Mrs. Adelle Sparrow; marshal, Marian McGuire; historian, Mrs. John Whitlock; pianist, Mrs. Grace Brewer; warder, Mrs. Mabel Hunter; sentinel, Fred Lester; Adah, Mrs. Margery Smith; Ruth, Mrs. Carrie Relyea; Esther, Mrs. Smallwood; Martha, Mrs. Eva Anderson; Electa, Mrs. Alice Burlingame; trustee for three years, Frank Crippen.

Mrs. Sherburne in behalf of the chapter presented Mr. Crippen with a gold masonic watch chain and Mrs. Andrews in behalf of the chapter presented Mrs. Sherburne with a past matron's jewel. Preceding the installation a tureen supper was served at 6:30 o'clock.

The Presbyterian Church

Rev. George D. Miller, Pastor. Morning worship at 10:30. The pastor will preach on "The Law of the Lord."

Sabbath School at 12 o'clock. Classes for all ages.

The Devotional committee of the Evangelistic Campaign has planned to hold union services on Sunday and Wednesday evenings until February eighth when Mr. Drumm will commence his work in Warsaw. The union service Sunday evening will be held in the Congregational church, and Rev. John Evans of Castile will preach.

The mid-week union service will be held on Wednesday evening in the chapel of the Congregational church and Rev. Morgan Millar will lead.

The Baptist Church

On Sunday morning the pastor will speak on the question, "Has the Gospel Lost Its Power with Men?" The Bible school meets at 12 o'clock. The young people meet at six. There will be a union service Sunday evening at seven o'clock in the Congregational church, when the Rev. John Evans of Castile, will speak on "The Church Awakened by a Rediscovery of the Reality and Power of Prayer." There will be union prayer meetings all through January, next week in the Congregational church.

Service in Rock Glen at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

The Congregational Church

Morning service at 10:30. Rev. John Evans, pastor of the Castile Presbyterian church will preach in exchange with the minister.

Sunday school at 12:00. Classes for all ages and a cordial welcome for everybody.

Union evening service in this church at 7:00. Rev. John Evans will preach. Subject, "The Church Awakened by a Rediscovery of the Reality and Power of Prayer." Union midweek service in the chapel on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

"I am sorry that the various departments of the Government did not follow the good advice of the Secretary of the Treasury and keep their estimates within the bounds he suggests, but our duty is plain, we must not only cut the estimates in excess of a billion, but we must turn a deaf ear to every new demand or request which is not imperative."

"In no other way can we perform our duty to our country. The duty of restoring public expenditure to a sound and safe basis—of reducing as soon as possible the burden of taxation and of moving forward on sound constructive lines of public policy."

Union evening service in this church at 7:00. Rev. John Evans will preach. Subject, "The Church Awakened by a Rediscovery of the Reality and Power of Prayer." Union midweek service in the chapel on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

"I am sorry that the various departments of the Government did not follow the good advice of the Secretary of the Treasury and keep their estimates within the bounds he suggests, but our duty is plain, we must not only cut the estimates in excess of a billion, but we must turn a deaf ear to every new demand or request which is not imperative."

"In no other way can we perform our duty to our country. The duty of restoring public expenditure to a sound and safe basis—of reducing as soon as possible the burden of taxation and of moving forward on sound constructive lines of public policy."

Union evening service in this